

Monthly performance report

Our latest performance information highlights how we have performed over the last month. The quality of our services are measured against targets and tolerances that have been set and approved by the board. If we do not meet our targets or tolerances, we seek to find out why they have not been met and how we can meet them in the future. You'll find a key at the bottom of each page and a guide at the end of this report to help you understand the information presented.

- Overall satisfaction with repairs service - Measures how satisfied customers are with the repairs service they have received following the completion of an emergency, urgent or routine repair.
- Overall satisfaction with planned maintenance service - Measures how satisfied customers are with larger planned improvement works in their home, such as kitchens, bathrooms or external improvements.
- Satisfaction with anti-social behaviour case handling - Measures how satisfied customers are with the way anti-social behaviour cases are managed.
- Satisfaction with formal complaint handling - Measures customer satisfaction with how complaints are handled.
- Repairs appointments kept - The percentage of urgent and routine repairs appointments attended as agreed.

- Stock condition surveys completed - Measures progress in surveying homes to understand their condition and future investment needs. Homes are surveyed every five years.
- Follow-on repairs completed within target - The percentage of repairs requiring an additional visit that are completed within 28 days.
- Homes empty and not available - The proportion of homes that are currently empty and not ready to be let to a new customer, usually because major works are taking place.
- Value for money gains - Savings or efficiencies achieved through improving the way we deliver services and make best use of our resources, helping us reinvest more money into homes and services.
- Void loss - Rental income lost because homes are empty and not generating rent.
- Income collected - The percentage of rent and service charges collected.
- Current tenant rent arrears - Outstanding rent owed by current customers.
- Former tenant rent arrears - Outstanding rent owed by former customers who no longer live in an SLH home.
- Total arrears - The total amount owed to SLH by current and former customers, including rent arrears and other debts such as court costs.
- Homes at EPC C or above - The percentage of homes with an Energy Performance Certificate (EPC) rating of C or higher. EPC ratings show how energy efficient a home is and how much it may cost to heat and power.
